

Benefits of being UKAS accredited

UKAS accreditation is recognised and accepted globally, therefore opens up opportunities overseas

Improved organisational efficiency

Accreditation can highlight gaps in capability, thereby providing the opportunity for improved organisational efficiency and outputs

Competitive advantage

Accreditation provides independent assurance of your competence. It can set you apart from the competition, and enable you to compete with larger organisations

Survey results of those that responded:

93%

agreed that accreditation provides confidence to their customers and stakeholders

76%

agreed that accreditation differentiates them from their competitors

85%

agreed that accreditation improves the quality and validity of their work

71%

agreed that accreditation helps them to win new or maintain existing business

Lower insurance premiums

Accreditations can be taken as an important factor in assessing risk, and can therefore offer lower premiums

Market access

Accreditation is specified by an increasing number of public and private sector organisations.
